EXTRAS TO THE ATTENDS WORLD:
Sheepshead Bay Race Track July 1.—The fact that Potomac and Strattemann were to meet in the Realization Stakes at a mile and five-eighths, proved a mighty attraction at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon.

The crowd of people that came down to witness the struggle between these great horses was the largest that has been seen since Suburban Day.

The boats and trains were crowded to their utmost capacity, and they poured in through the gates in a solid stream for two hours. The track was a scene of intense interest at the course before the first race was called.

The battle between Potomac and Strattemann promised to be a royal one, both were in fine condition.

Potomac was the star of the two-year-olds last season, and Strattemann was not far behind. This year Strattemann went west and defeated the crack Western colts in the American Derby.

Potomac has been out twice, and each time performed so well that he was bound to have another chance.

It was an ideal day for racing. The weather was clear and pleasant, and masses of white and dark horses were to be seen on the track in the way that put every one in the mood for cheering and commotion of crowds.

The track was in beautiful shape, as it showed no signs of wear or damage, and the grandstands and stands were ample for recording and reporting.

The programme was an excellent one. Out-of-town racing, including a mile, which was $40,000, there was the second edition of the Double Event, with His Highness, Victory, and Potomac an meeting on even terms.

The rest of the programme was good. The race track looked as though Kingston and Belmont had come to a great deal.

The owner of Kingston, Mr. H. C. Smith, and not except the crushing weight of 100 pounds given to his horse, and he withdrew. This was a pity to most of us.

In the opinion of the talent it was an air tight circle. They made "Tilly a heavy weight," and the horse that would be passed just as the star in a cancer stricken away was second and Strattemann third place.
